

DETOUR ROAD TO BE OPEN NEXT WEEK

N. Buckner, Here Yesterday, Says Way
Passable Now

TO WIRE FLORIDA

Secretary Says 1600 to 2000 Tourists
Will Be Through Here
Within Next Two Months

Opening of the detour road from Barbourville to Corbin next Thursday was promised by N. Buckner, Asheville, N. C., man who has had direction of the repair road and who was in town yesterday afternoon.
Mr. Buckner is secretary of the Western Carolina Motor Club and working in conjunction with Charles O'Connor of the same organization he has accomplished the opening up of the roads through this way.

Mr. Buckner said that he intended to send telegrams next week to all Florida towns where tourists go telling them that the road through this way would be open. Within the next thirty or sixty days then, he prophesied, there will be from 1600 to 2000 tourists through this way.
The road is passable now, he added, and cars are going through without help.

Next Wednesday, Mr. Buckner said, a large delegation from all of the towns along the way, Cincinnati, Cynthiana, Paris, Lexington, Richmond, Berea, Mt. Vernon and Corbin, will assemble here for breakfast.
Reinforced by Middlesboro, Pineville and Barbourville representatives, they will then go on to Barbourville to inspect the road to Corbin and, if it is in proper condition, declare it opened.

Mr. Buckner will be in Corbin and Barbourville during the next week overseeing the work on the road.

D'BUSK HEADS VETERANS' ORDER

Local Overseas Men Organize Dwyer Guy Post No. 1169 Here
Last Night

Local veterans who have seen active service in foreign countries met at the K. P. hall last night and organized Dwyer Guy Post No. 1169, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The post was named in honor of a Middles-boro boy who made the supreme sacrifice at Chateau-Thierry during the World War.

The following officers were elected: A. D. DeBusk, commander; L.
D. Rouser, adjutant; Ernest Graves, quartermaster. Complete equipment in the way of instructions, regalia and other property was furnished by R. M. Woodward, chief of staff, who instituted the post and gave the obligation of allegiance to the order and the United States government.

A number of men who had not signed as charter members were present. Commander DeBusk stated that the membership would shortly be increased to seventy-five or practically all the men in this vicinity who are eligible for membership.
The meetings will probably be held weekly until the work of organization is completed, the next meeting being scheduled for Wednesday night.

Some of the men who have applied for membership were unable to be present at the organization meeting.
Those who were there were: A. D.
DeBusk, James A. Goforth, John Brinegar, W. A. Wagner, Ernest Graves, Bayard Yaden, Clint Hayes, Guy Burkes and R. M. Woodward.

NEARLY ALL 1923 CITY AUTO LICENSES PAID

Nearly all of the 1923 city automobile license have been paid, according to the commissioner of finance. When warrants were drawn for compulsory payments the delinquents tried no longer to dodge the obligation.

There were approximately 200 licenses on cars alone unpaid when the campaign for compulsory collection was begun. Yesterday it was announced that all except about twenty-five have paid. This is considered good collections but the remainder of the amount due will be collected when the delinquents are found.

wife of the Labor Member of Parliament for South Ayrshire who has sioner to the Church of Scotland.

CITY CLEAN UP IS THOROUGH ONE

Rubbish Hauled From Residential Districts—Streets Kept Clean

The city clean-up campaign, which began the first of the week is continuing daily. A number of calls are received at the city hall each day for wagons to remove rubbish collected in the business and residential districts. These are always promptly answered and the trash hauled to the dumping ground.

In residential sections this morning many piles of tin cans, papers and other rubbish were noticed in front of houses awaiting for the city trash-wagons. Free garbage disposal service will be available only this week and nearly all residents are taking advantage of the limited offer.

Streets were cleaned early in the week and will be washed frequently during fair weather. The city fire engine has not yet been returned from Knoxville as some unforeseen repairs had to be made. It is expected to be returned within a few days, however, and then the Red truck which is now kept loaded with hose for emergency will be available for the work of hauling off the rubbish.

ELIMINATE CHARGE AGAINST LANGLEY

Government Passes Individual Indictment—Others Still Stand

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—Government today null prossc one of the indictments against Representative John W. Langley, Republican of Kentucky, who is charged with conspiracy in connection with liquor withdrawal permits. The indictment eliminated today is that against him individually. Another in which he is named with several others still stands.

LOCAL RECRUITER WINS PRIZE MOST ENLISTMENTS

Sergeant J. D. Miller, U. S. Army recruiter of Middlesboro, won the $25 cash prize for his corps' arrest last month for sending in the largest number of recruits. He was credited with twenty-three enlistments.

Carl Hickson of Johnson City, Joe Thomas of Virginia and George Rhodes of Anthon, Tenn., enlisted recently and were assigned to the Tenth Infantry at Fort Thomas. The year terms. William Smith and two last mentioned went in for one year. Simp Gully, both previous men of Middlesboro, enlisted for the Philippine Islands and the Philippines, respectively.

FREE EATS TO VISITORS HERE DURING WEEK

Practical Demonstration of Middlesboro Products

MANY BARGAINS

Many Visitors Expected Next Two Days—Farmers Kept Away
by Warm Working Weather

One of the first practical means of interesting local and out of town people in the "Buy in Middles-boro" campaign now in progress was the free "eats" donated by local wholesalers and dispensed under the auspices of the Middlesboro Merchants' association.

Ham sandwiches and coffee were served at Shelburne's this afternoon to visitors and local people who had cards issued at various stores directing them where to get the lunch and mentioning the names of firms contributing the foods.

The Jellico Grocery company furnished the Cumberland club coffee, the Lone Mountain Milling company the flour for the bread which was baked by the Haynes Bakery and Armour and Co. furnished the ham for the sandwiches. A. C. Shelburne had the refreshments prepared and served at his place of business.

Though no great influx of people from the surrounding country has resulted from the efforts of the Merchants' Association to bring them in during the week, there have been many here doubtless who would not have come otherwise. Lack of cooperation of the rural populace is attributed to the warm and fair weather this week which has made farm work possible and the lack of proper inducements to bring people here.

Many special bargains being offered by merchants this week are being sought by visitors and local people and artistic window displays of seasonable merchandise are attracting a great deal of attention.

There will be two more days of the campaign besides today, however, and a greater number of visitors are expected during the remainder of the week. Saturday which is always a time when miners come in from the camps and other out of town residents come here to do their shopping should bring an unusual number of people to town.

ILL HEALTH FORCES R. L. KIN- CAID TO LEAVE W. VA. WORK

Friends here of Robert L. Kincaid are very grieved to hear that he has been forced to give up his position at Grafton, W. Va., because of ill health and that he will soon return to his home in Harrogate to go from there to a sanitarium for several months.

Mr. Kincaid, during his year in Middlesboro as managing editor of the Daily News, made a great many friends who earnestly hope for his speedy recovery. The following item from the Grafton Sentinel, of which he has been manager the past two months, shows the esteem in which he is held there:

R. L. Kincaid has been making a splendid impression upon both the old force and employees inside and upon the general public and business patrons of the paper. Recently he suffered a recurrence of a serious physical affection, and upon the advice of his physician he has been compelled to give up his work and return home to enter a sanitarium in the hope of restoring his health. He goes with the expressed hope on his part and ours that he may be able to return to The Sentinel before many months and carry out his pronounced desire to make Grafton his home and the business management of The Sentinel his main business in life.

MOTHER OF DAVID SENTERS DIES HERE THIS MORNING

Mrs. Mary May Senters, wife of

INSURGENT HELP

Soldier Bonus Bill Put Off by Senate Till Saturday—Predict House Bill Will Pass

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—A new revenue bill was formally reported to the senate today and with it the new Democratic tax plan, carrying an income tax schedule somewhat similar to the Longworth plan adopted by the House and rejected by the majority Senate finance committee.
The Democratic plan, which its sponsors believe will have the support of the Republican insurgent group, carries a minimum surtax rate of forty per cent on incomes in excess of $500,000 as compared with twenty-five per cent maximum in excess of $100,000 in the finance committee bill.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—Consideration of the soldiers' bonus bill has been put over until Saturday by the Senate finance committee. Chairman Smoot predicted agreement on a bill similar to that which was passed by the house.

EVANGELIST TELLS KINDS OF REFUGES

Points Difference Between True and False—"The Cross of Christ" Subject Tonight

"Refuges," subject of Evangelist Stephens' sermon at the First Baptist Church last night, was one of the strongest sermons in the series so far. Two services a day will continue to the close of the meeting, Sunday. The sermon subject tonight will be "The Cross of Christ."

A sinful soul needs a refuge from sin, a refuge from conscience, a refuge from Satan and a refuge from judgment, the preacher declared.
"The one refuge is Christ, but you must make the choice. Every one must answer as to whether there will be a false refuge or an eternal refuge with his Savior."

Every man has some refuge by which he hopes to avoid the forces which press upon him, the speaker brought out, naming among these the belief that being a righteous and moral man is refuge enough, the belief that belonging to the church and being baptized will take one through, the belief that one can find refuge elsewhere than in Jesus Christ.

L. M. C. TYPHOID PA- TIENTS BROUGHT OVER HERE

Three typhoid patients, two boys and one girl, have been transferred from the Lincoln Memorial university to the hospital here, these being the only persons there afflicted with the disease. These patients, it is understood, are expected to recover soon.
Norton hall, the building in which the sick students were being kept, is being fumigated, renovated and re-pointed on the interior so that all of the germs will be destroyed.

FUNERAL FOR DR. MORGAN AT ROSE HILL TOMORROW

Funeral services for Dr. John D.
Morgan who died at his home at Rose Hill Tuesday night will be conducted at the Methodist church at Rose Hill at 2 p. m. tomorrow instead of today as was previously announced. The change in the date was made because his nephew, Nathan Morgan of Brandon, Fla., will not be able to arrive before that date.
The deceased has a number of relatives and a host of friends in Mid-dlesboro and vicinity who will be present at the funeral services.

PEACE TODAY AT STRAIGHT CREEK

More than 10 Men at Work—Troups Believe Situation Well in Hand

By Associated Press.
Arbitration Conference
FRANKFORT, Ky., Apr. 10.— Governor Fields today sent a second invitation for an arbitration conference of miners and operators at Straight Creek and set the date as April 12. The situation at the mines is reported quiet today.

With 200 armed guards patrolling grounds surrounding the Liberty coal and coke company mines at Straight Creek, peace and quiet reigns there today and more than forty men are working in the mine. It is believed by mine officials and military officers that the situation is well in hand, that enemies of the mining company and the union workers have about abandoned their attempts to stop the work at any cost.

Not a shot from the hills has broken the stillness of the camp today, officials of the company stated at three o'clock this afternoon. There was some desultory firing last night but the bullets, fired from long range, did no harm. The troops stand ready at all times to reply to the intermittent shots and have always succeeded in forcing a temporary cessation of hostilities.

No casualties have occurred among the troops, military and mine officers stated this afternoon, though bullets have whizzed unpleasantly close to the uniformed protectors of the workers. No one seems to know definitely whether or not any members of the besieging party have been wounded, though reports are current that some of them have been hit during the machine gun and rifle barrages.

There is not telling what a night will bring forth, though mine officials and military officers are not expecting any serious trouble tonight or hereafter.

NO WORK IN DENTAL CLINIC THIS YEAR LIKELY

No arrangements for a dentist for the dental clinic have been made, according to Miss Wilhelmine Marx, public health nurse. It is not likely that any work will be done at the office before the beginning of the school term next fall, she says.
Since the proposition of furnishing services for the clinic was turned down by local dentists there has been nothing done in the way of providing a dentist to do the work.
It is probable that the city will take up the matter at a later date and make some arrangements.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Apr. 10.—Two hundred delegates are here today and more are expected to attend a meeting to perfect an organization opposed to the proposed seventy-five million dollar state bond issue for roads and charitable institutions.
The committee in charge of arrangements announced the meeting would assemble during the afternoon. Judge the minimum and appoint committees on resolutions and permanent organization. Meanwhile the pro-

MANY REPLIES TO "THE COVERED WAGON" CONTEST

The box office of the Manning theatre was deluged with replies to the "Covered Wagon" contest last night and this morning. Nearly all the answers were, in the main, correct and the winners had to be decided, to a degree, on accuracy in minute detail and neatness.
Almost before the ink was dry on yesterday afternoon's paper, Frank Frazer worked out a solution and submitted it to C. O. Brown. Others began to come in during the evening.
These were all numbered and the contestant given a number, corresponding to that on the reply.
Those whose answers were picked as the winners were: Mrs. Luther Burnett, F. M. Frazer, Miss Penne-baker and Mrs. T. D. Arnold. Each of these winners will be awarded one ticket to the "Covered Wagon" at the Manning Saturday afternoon and night.

Burns Says Daugherty Didn't Seek

Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 10.—The senate Daugherty committee today decided to speed up investigation of books of the Midland bank, of which M. S.
Daugherty, brother of former attorney general, is president, at Washington court house, Ohio. Senator Wheeler, committee prosecutor, will leave tonight for Ohio to begin the work. He believes the bank's books will confirm certain testimony regarding financial operations of Harry Daugherty and others. At a hearing today the committee dipped into the controversy over the indictment of Wheeler by the Montana grand jury. William J.
Burns, chief of the justice department's secret agents, testified he had sent operatives to Montana on the Wheeler case several weeks ago at the request of the post office department. He had talked to Daugherty about the case but in reply to a question denied Daugherty "wanted to get something on Wheeler."

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—Senator Borah, Republican of Iowa was mittee to investigate circumstances surrounding the indictment of Senator Wheeler by the Montana grand jury. The committee consists of two other Republicans and two Democrats.

QUASH CHAMBER COMMERCE IDEA

Say Time Is Inopportune—Baptist Evangelist Gives Splendid Short Sermon

The Chamber of Commerce proposition, as far as the Kivans club is concerned, was effectively put to sleep today by the report of the committee that they believed this "an inopportune time" to consider such a proposition for Middlesboro. The report of the committee was accepted.

Announcement was made of the big delegation from Detroit, Cincinnati and central Kentucky, cities which would be here Wednesday morning for breakfast and would go on from here to inspect the Barbourville-Corbin road. If this delegation finds this and others on the road to Cincinnati in good shape, the highway will be ordered opened and the news will be immediately broadcast. A committee to represent Middlesboro on the delegation was named as follows: R. E.
Judy, J. E. Evans, W. D. Moteb, A.
P. Liebig, T. H. Hill and C. G. Sayle.
Frank Lee was chairman today and E. L. Wolslagle drew the attendance prize. Mr. Wolslagle then led several religious songs and sang a beautiful solo himself.

Dr. E. C. Stephens who is holding evangelistic services at the Baptist Church this week and was the principal speaker of the day, came last night and gave a short but splendidly earnest sermon on "Efficient Christianity." Such Christianity, he pointed out, must have quantity and quality to be successful. Following this trend, he pointed out many necessities for such Christianity, the spirit of Christ, the mind of Christ, the conduct of Christ and prospect of Christ, all of which he said were necessary for real "efficient" Christianity. He emphasized the point that surface Christianity would not save any one that merely confessing Christ with one's lips was not enough.

"This sin-cursed world needs business men like you to show the spirit of Christ every day in the week and not just on Sunday," declared the evangelist as he summed up his points and closed.

SPRING CHICKENS AND SPRING GARDENS

Every day we hear grievous complaints from planters of new flower and garden seed to the effect that they can grow nothing because of their neighbors' chickens. No sooner have they with great time, patience and expense prepared their garden or flower beds, when out come the neighbors' chickens and demolish all of the work.

Recently we read of an ordinance in a nearby town whereby the penalty for a chicken found in a neighbor's garden was an untimely end in that same neighbor's dinner pot. Our city is not so severe, but we are beginning to believe that drastic measures are perhaps most effective. Certain it is that the neighbor of the ruined garden is not greatly placated when, after hailing the chicken owner into court, the latter promises to keep his chickens in and does—till the next morning.

As champions of all of the people whose gardens are annually scratched up by energetic chickens, we favor either strict enforcement of the Keep Your Chickens At Home law, or else the passing of an ordinance providing finding are keepings in the case of chickens in gardens.

THE SPRING CLEAN-UP

These are the days when the homeowner and the householder gaze speculatively at the back yard, glance with interest at the collection of partly filled paint cans without which no garage, barn or basement is complete, and calculate the mileage left in last year's tires.

Nature, assisted a little by the proper public departments, is beginning to clean up; the lawn showed green this morning; there is a green shoot, species unknown, an inch above the ground. Against the back porch the dead limbs of last year's vine hang brown and ugly; all the winds of the earth have plastered waste paper against the fence; the window boxes have the decayed stumps of the annuals no one thought it worth while to remove; the alley is drowsy with a dilapidated garbage can and occasional heaps of rubbish which the wind scatters again over near by yards. This is spring.

The Clean Up and Paint Up campaign which has become a national institution in the United States is designed to capture this reflective contemplation with which man muses on the debris of a vanished winter, and harness it to an impulse. The impulse is nothing less than the will to remove the rubbish, tidy up the lot, front and back, dress the garden, mop up the garage, see the waste litter removed, and, if necessary, have a job of painting done on the house before the window boxes are filled.

The subtle slogan with which the campaign is armed is the challenge: "Keep it up!" and, in fact, nothing less than that will keep the environs of a home clean and pleasant. Moreover, where attention is fairly constant the work is slight. The man who sighs and grunts at the task before him is the man who neglects his place so long that untidiness accumulates.

Homes are intended to be bright, pleasant, attractive places. There will be many soft days this summer when the cleaned up house and lot will be

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

THURSDAY
The Price of Immortality

Read Mt. 10:21-12. Text: 10:39. He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

"Belief in immortality gives the steadiness and poise essential to fine work and friendship because it releases from the nerves strain of envy. Much of the irritation incident to living comes from the sullen discomfort we feel at seeing others have possessions or opportunities superior to our own."

Meditation: Jesus was under no illusion as to the probable cost of the allegiance of his followers to him. He often reminded them of the burden and the pain of discipleship. At the same time he held before them that no good thing could come into a person's life without a price, and that in the divine plan of God he was willing to invest his best, even his mortal life, in the Kingdom should receive the gift of life eternal.

Personal Question: What does it mean for me to lose my life or gain it?
Prayer: Our Father in Heaven, we pray that we may remember always the price of immortality. Let us never hold it cheap or trifle with thy redeeming grace. May we become conscious of the eternal riches of thy love in Christ. Amen.

a grateful spot. Going beyond the return to the owner or occupier, there is the incalculable benefit to the community. In this City Beautiful, the very chief interest should be the homes. And when the homes have all been made good to look at and around, the stores also should brighten themselves up, and when that is done and while it is being done, good citizens should give their attention to the attractive portions of the community to make them completely healthy, clean, safe and beautiful.

There are practical considerations of reduced fire risk, and there are the moral considerations of self-respect. Either alone should accomplish the task. Together their argument is irresistible.—The Knoxville Sentinel.

Spring's here and the farmers are feeling their oats.

When the political pot starts boiling it makes a lot of smoke.

Fine thing about having a garden is you pick what you want.

Bathing suits will show the winter left some people in bad shape.

A rum ship caught fire off the coast of Florida, but not one of the boys stood on the burning deck.

When you see a man sitting around looking worried it is a coal dealer wondering if winter really has gone.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton
NO. 17—MISTER PUNCH HUNTS JUDY

"Did you see Judy and the baby?" he repeated.

"Did anybody see Judy and the baby?" asked Mister Punch.

Mister Punch looked very funny, dressed in a sort of red and yellow gown, and a high peaked hat with tassels on the side.

"Did you see Judy and the baby?" he repeated. "I thought that after I'd thrown them out of the window they might come to Doofunny Land. Such queer people come here to live, and Judy was certainly a queer 'un."

Nancy and Nick looked at Mister Punch and then at Mister Fuzz Wuzz, and then at Mister Punch again. They didn't know a word he was talking about.

"If you do find Judy," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz, "what do you intend to do with her?"

"Oh!" cried Mister Punch, the tears starting to his eyes, "I intend to give her my stick and let her be a laborer for a while. I'm sorry I treated her so. I never meant to, but after Toby bit me on the nose I kind of got mixed up in my mind and didn't know what I was doing. Do you want me to tell you about it?"

"Oh, yes!" cried both Twins eagerly. "Please do, Mister Punch. It sounds just fine."

"Other people's troubles always," declared Mister Punch with a grimace. "But sit down and I'll begin at the beginning."

"One fine day I got ready to take Judy and the baby for a walk. Judy was my wife and the baby was our only child."

"Well, I waited and waited and waited, and every time I called to her to hurry up, she would call back, 'Just a minute, Mister Punch, just one more minute.'"

"I was looking out of the window while I was waiting, and a showman passed with his dog Toby. Toby saw me and jumped up my stairs, he bit me right on my nose."

"Well, that made me awfully mad so I hit him and threw him out of the window."

Up came the showman, and he yelled, "Why do you throw my dog Toby out of the window? And with that he gave me a good beating with a stick—this very stick I have in my hand."

"Well, I grabbed the stick and hit him and then threw him out of the window."

"Just then Judy came in with the baby and I guess I had gotten the habit, for I grabbed the baby and threw it out of the window, and next I beat poor Judy and threw her out too! Oh, I was a terrible fellow!"

"After that I ran out, and knocked down everybody I met—a doctor and two policemen, and a whole lot of people, and they put me into jail, but I got out and I've been hunting for Judy ever since. I want to tell her that I'm sorry. And I do hope the poor baby isn't hurt. It isn't good for babies to throw them out of the window."

"Well, I should like to help you, my dear Mister Punch," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz kindly, "but so far Mrs. Judy has not come to Doofunny Land. I'll ask the rag-doll, and Mister Hinky Dinky, and the dancer and everybody, and I'll send you word if I hear of anything."

"Thank you," said Mister Punch, marching stiffly away on his little wooden legs. "Thank you—thank you."

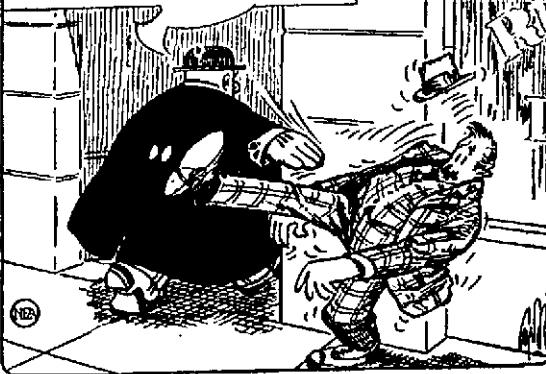

And away he went, tassels, cap, long stick and all.

WASHINGTON QUIZZES ARE THREATENING TO DIE OUT

WASHINGTON, April 8.—It's up to Washington's investigators to get some more star witnesses, like Roxie Stinson and Gaston Means—and do it quick. Otherwise the investigations are going to peter out. The inquiries kept getting hotter and hotter up to the point where Atty. Gen. Daugherty had to resign. That was a fine climax. It's made everything since then seem rather flat.

Captain H. S. Seafie, former secret agent for the Justice Department, has given the investigators a couple of good leads which they make something sensational of—but in order to do that they've got to have the right kind of witnesses. Seafie isn't the right kind. What he says is all right, but, personally, he lacks pep. To everybody's surprise, Al Jennings, ex-handicapped evangelist, lacks pep, likewise. As a witness, he was too obvious by a would-be self-adviser.

One of Seafie's stories was about the sale of the Busch Magneto property, which, being German-owned, fell into Alien Property Custodian A. Mitchell Palmer's hands during the war and was disposed of, according to Seafie, at "a grossly inadequate price," to one of Palmer's friends. Instrumental in this sale, Seafie relates, was the Boston banking firm of Hornblower & Weeks, to which Secretary of War Weeks formerly belonged. This brings in big names and may be made good stuff of yet.

Another Seafie story is to the effect that, at Secretary of Commerce Hoover's order, a million dollars worth of supplies, intended by this country for starving Russians, were turned over by the "A. R. A." to Admiral Kolchak, to help him and his soldiers fight the soviet government. "Bunk," is Hoover's answer, but the matter may be investigated, all the same.

There's a certain amount of piquancy in the attempt to force Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt only a subordinate official, not a cabinet head. His case probably wouldn't attract much attention if he weren't "a Roosevelt."

The trial of Harry Sinclair, charged with "contempt" because he wouldn't answer the oil investigators' questions, probably will be strung out for a long time. The grand jury inquiry into the criminal aspects of the oil case, since it will be secret, can't be a popular show, as it has been.

BEAUTIFYING HIGH SCHOOL GROUNDS ON FINE SCALE

Work of beautifying the high school grounds has begun by enriching the soil around the building and sowing grass and setting out shrubbery.

The bank on the side facing the canal has been set with trailing roses, honeysuckles, spiraea and other trailing plants. There will be a rose garden in the back yard. Grass has been sown on the grounds which have recently been enriched and leveled and there will be a flower garden.

MAH-JONGG

And he blew the seed of magic and the seeds of silk and gold. There about a great enchanter and his character was bad. For he freed the Wind of fury and he sent the Wind of Drouth. And he stole a peevish princess from her palace in the South. And he built a Wall about her and he filled her heart with dread. For he guarded her with Dragons that were Green and White and Red.

And her spirit thrilled with rapture as the prince replied "Mah-Jongg?" And they rode away together to his Kingdom in the West. And were happy ever after in a lovely lacquer chest!

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

DAILY MENU FOR THE STOUT AND THIN

Loss Weight

One large orange, 2 tablespoons rolled oats, stuffed beet salad, 4 tablespoons baked shrimp and tomatoes, 1 cup spinach, 1 cup fruit salad, 1 ounce leaf lettuce, 2 thin slices gluten bread, 1 whole wheat roll, 1 pint skimmed milk.

Total calories, 1092. Protein, 345; fat, 146; carbohydrate, 601. Iron, .024 gram.

Stuffed Beet Salad (Individual) One medium-sized beet, 2 tablespoons cottage cheese, salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-8 teaspoon paprika, 1-8 teaspoon lemon juice, lettuce ribbons.

Wash beets and boil until tender. Dip in cold water and slip skin. Scoop out center and fill with cottage cheese mixed with salt, pepper, lemon juice and paprika. Arrange on a bed of shredded lettuce and serve very cold. Bits of the beet scooped from the center can be used to garnish the top of the cheese.

Total calories (exclusive of lettuce), 82. Protein, 43; fat, 4; carbohydrate, 35. Iron, .0003 gram. The rolled oats are eaten without sugar or cream. Skimmed milk can be used. If the oats are cooked several hours the natural sweetness of the grain will make the lack of sugar quite unnoticeable.

The fruit salad has no dressing but the fruit juices and the spinach are seasoned with salt and pepper and lemon juice.

Shower Tuesday Night For Miriam Williams

Miss Miriam Williams, whose engagement to marry this spring was announced Saturday, was honored Tuesday night with a shower at the home of Misses Jess and Earle on Arthur Heights. The shower was given by members of the Sunday school class in the Christian Church of which Miss Williams is a member. The house was attractively decorated in jonquils and other spring flowers. A chair, draped in yellow crepe paper, formed the seat of honor for the bride-to-be when her gifts were brought in by little Margaret Lee and Sylvia Easton in doll carriages. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Girl Scout Troop Celebrates Founding

Red Rose Troop Number 1, Girl Scouts, spent a most enjoyable afternoon in honor of the second birthday of the troop and of the Scout movement in this city. The occasion was celebrated by a hike to the lake in which seventeen girls and several visitors participated. They left town about 3:30 p. m. and reached Fern Lake a little after 4. Several Scouts passed questions in Second Class work by laying and lighting fire with only two matches and no artificial timber. Each patrol cooked supper of typical camp style and they ate around the camp fire. Games and music followed the supper, and brought to a close this first hike of the season. The girls left the lake about 7:15 p. m. Two charter members of the troop, only Scout Shumate and Patrol Leader Smith were present. Guests were: Mrs. Y. McManus, Mrs. Ike Euster, Florence

100 Miles an Hour In 1923 they cleft the air like birds

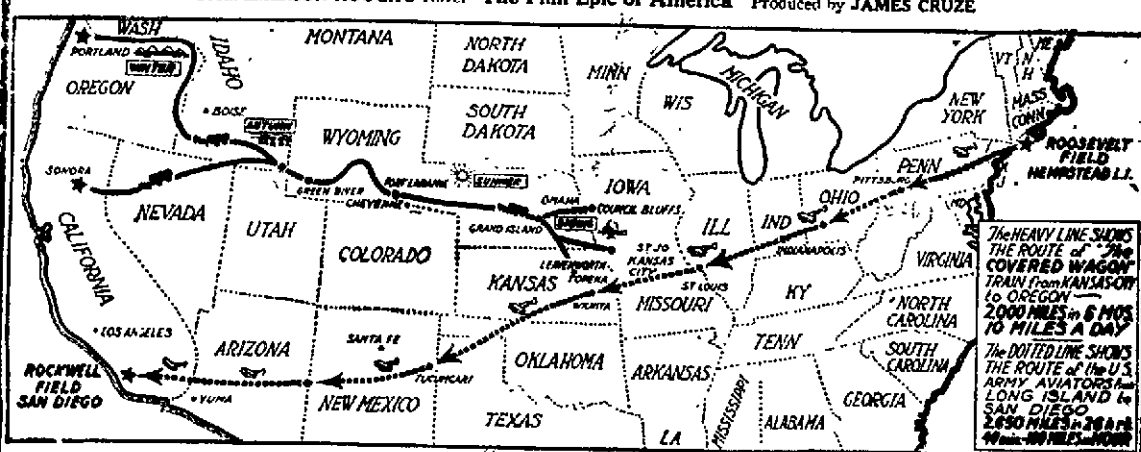

YEARS before Yankee ingenuity outdid the birds, hardy American pioneers with white-hooded "Prairie Schooners" toiled across the plains between the Mississippi River and the Rockies and down the Western slopes of the Great Divide into the golden land of California and the fertile valleys of Oregon. The wheels of their wagons transmuted the desert sands into gold. The pebbles kicked up by their horses and oxen crystalized into the diamonds of our queenliest social leaders. Their outriders broke the ground from which springs the grain to feed the world. Their thrilling story is told in

"BUSINESS FORCED ME TO ENTER POLITICS." DOHENY'S DEFENSE

This is the ninth chapter of "How I Made My Millions," E. L. Doheny's own story of his life. In previous chapters he told how he made his fortune, which made him one of the richest men in America and brought him into the limelight of the Senate oil investigation.

BY E. L. DOHENY

No man can do big business today without being engaged in government affairs.

And the men who know these affairs must be consulted in business. It is true in Mexico; it is true in the United States; it is probably true the world over.

We were forced into it in our business—by the business itself. Ours is now a business of oil and ships—and both play an important part in the national life, even international life, as Lord Cuxon pointed out so well when he said:

"The armies of the allies floated to victory on a wave of oil."

The best trained in the affairs of government are usually those who have been part of it. So there is really no need for the public to shake its head askance when it hears that ex-this-or-that official has gone into the employ of private business.

Public men are hired for that which they can do for their employer or company. They are supposed to do the best they can—and they usually do.

Of all the men of influence whom I have employed, I haven't met any—not even McAdoo—who didn't do the utmost.

The employment of such men of influence is like the employment of a physician. If they can prevent you from getting sick, you never know how much they have accomplished.

And there certainly is more satisfaction in the adviser, who prevents and helps, than in any other.

This was the type of advice I expected to get from the late Secretary Lane—the advantage of his wisdom, his help in making contracts, the diplomacy in obviating friction.

Big lawyers are supposed to have these faculties—to exercise their faculties, like physicians, in preventing trouble. But not all of them do.

I still remember enough of my law studies to be able to pass the bar examination; but I'm glad I didn't stick to it for my career.

For I feel that I am too impulsive, too remonstrative, and not patient enough to be a lawyer.

So I stick to my prospecting, preferring the spouting of oil—to that of words.

(In the next chapter Doheny tells how he came to leave Naval Reserve No. 1).

BANK DISPLAYS SAFETY CHECKS

New Blanks Absolutely Protect Depositor From Losses by Check Frauds

The Citizens' Bank and Trust Co. this week has a very interesting display of its new super-safety insured checks. These checks are displayed in both of the bank windows together with data regarding the value of their use. These insured checks are declared to be the last word in safety and to provide the only positive protection against check raisers. Most people do not realize that last year more than $70,000,000 was lost through frauds alone—that every 3 1-2 minutes a check fraud loss. Ordinary unsafe bank checks are an irresistible temptation to check raisers.

These super-safety insured checks are made on a special safety paper and should an attempt be made to alter one of these checks, either by erasure, knife or acid, the paper fairly shrieks the crime.

Each check is marked "Insured" and "protected by the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, Inc." which acts as an effective "keep off" notice to both amateur and professional check artists.

Besides, each depositor is insured up to the amount of $1,000 against fraudulent alteration of his check written on these super-safety insured checks with the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company. For this added protection and safety the bank makes no charge whatever. It simply is doing its best to keep you from being among those who are losing about one million dollars each week through having their checks tampered with by criminals. You may be next, if you use unsafe, uninsured

The bank also has a private edition of a book by Detective William J. Burns entitled "Stories of Check Raisers—And How to Protect Yourself" which he has written from his vast experience, and in it he offers timely advice telling how you can save your bank account from being raided by the check raisers some day. If you will call at the bank you can have a copy of this valuable book, free, with the bank's compliments whether you are a customer or not. There is no obligation whatever as long as the limited supply lasts.

The Citizens' Bank is doing this educational work to make it safe and convenient to pay by check because thus you always have a receipt for your payments; you never make a mistake in amount; you can operate your "budget" more intelligently and you always know just what your bank balance is.

Announcing the Opening of OUR NEW STORE, 222 Cumberland Ave.
MIDDLESBORO, KY.

With the greatest assortment of Nationally Advertised Food Products at the lowest prices ever offered in this section of the country.

We have combined all the good features of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., a National Organization owning and operating nearly ten thousand stores in the United States, and The Quaker Maid, a well-known Kentucky Chain Store organization enjoying a reputation for high quality, cleanliness, courtesy, and lower prices.

Middlesboro folks will now have the opportunity of buying their groceries from the largest Retail Grocers in the World.

The tremendous buying power of this great organization combined with the extremely low operating expense will bring to this community an array of grocery bargains that will startle the individual grocers in this vicinity and create a sensation among thrifty housewives.

Visit this spick-and-span new store early Friday morning and see our clean, fresh stock and compare our prices with those you have been paying.

We welcome every man, woman and child to this new store Friday and Saturday, whether you buy or not and please remember that all of the prices quoted in this ad are our regular Low Every-day Economy Prices and not special ones set for the store opening to attract your attention. That these very low prices will be in effect next week, next month and so on until changing markets make it necessary to raise or lower them. Also remember that these are just a few of the hundreds of popular brands of high-grade food stuffs that we carry and that every one of them is priced at just as low a price in comparison as those contained in this ad.
